EMRS BULLETIN

AOMC to EMRS Process Revisited

The AOMC to EMRS process will be reinstated nationwide beginning July 13, 1999. The AOMC to EMRS process will run as described in Bulletin 15, with a few exceptions. Please note that these exceptions are temporary measures enabled to allow the AOMC to EMRS process to run with Version 3.0 of the EMRS Data Entry System. W/OSO113 is exploring ways to make the AOMC to EMRS process more efficient.

There is no checking for previously reported maintenance events. In the previous version of the Data Entry System, if a technician reported an ASOS maintenance event and correctly entered the trouble ticket number in block 17_d of the A-26 form, the AOMC to EMRS process would not necessarily place the A-26 form on hold for the electronic staff to complete. This functionality is not yet available with the new system. W/OSO113 is asking technicians to delete these duplicate records if they are entered into the Data Entry System.

Using multiple A-26 forms created from one trouble ticket. Certain functions associated with multiple A-26 forms created from one AOMC trouble ticket are not yet available. When committing or deleting an A-26 form, Version 3.0 of the Data Entry System will not search for other A-26 forms with the same trouble ticket number that may be on-hold.

Query for on-hold records from the AOMC. To find on-hold records from the AOMC, make sure the 'Commit Suppression' Box is checked, enter your ESA/ET Station ID, and Enter 'ZZZ' in the Operator Initials box (See Figure 1). This will find any on-hold A-26 forms created as the result of the AOMC to EMRS process. Please note that the electronics staff may still query by trouble ticket number as described in Bulletin 15.

Records from the period during which the AOMC to EMRS process was not running. W/OSO113 has asked electronics staff member to submit their own A-26 forms for the period during which the AOMC to EMRS process was on hiatus. However, if the electronics staff at a site so requests, W/OSO113 can process the AOMC files and place A-26 records on-hold for the time frame that the AOMC to EMRS process was not running for that site. If this service is requested, please contact W/OSO113 by July 31.
